amitriptyline (amitriptyline) is a tricyclic antidepressant used to treat depression, anxiety disorders, and other conditions. It is also used to relieve pain and to treat certain types of seizures. Amitriptyline is available in several forms, including tablets, capsules, and liquid. It is usually taken once or twice a day. The dose depends on the condition being treated and the individual's response to the drug. Amitriptyline may cause side effects, such as dry mouth, constipation, and drowsiness. It is important to follow the doctor's instructions and to take the drug exactly as prescribed.
