tiotropium patients were 68 more likely to improve asthma control, and the number of patients having a severe asthma exacerbation was reduced by 21.